Assessing Your Default as a Presenter

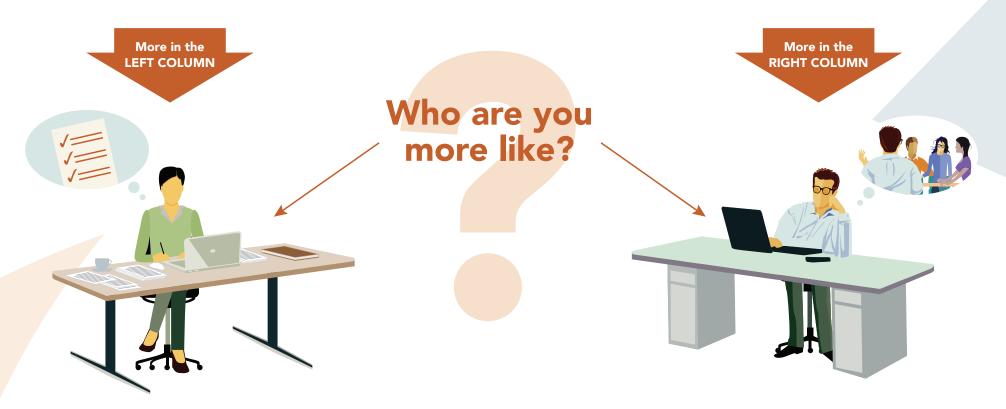

With each pair of statements, choose the one that describes you better. Try not to answer them in terms of how you would like to see yourself but in terms of how you actually are or have tended to be in the past.

	••	•
I feel that if I put a lot of work into my slides, I'll succeed		I feel that slides are just a part of an effective presentation.
Organizing information comes easily to me		Speaking to groups comes easily to me.
Whether it's true or not, I feel I'm more likely to succeed if I practice my presentation		Whether it's true or not, I feel that I can wing it and be okay.
If I could, I'd deliver my presentation and ther answer questions about it		If I could make them that way, my presentations would be nothing but a series of questions and answers.
Having to make last-minute adjustments to my presentation frustrates me		One of my fears is delivering my presentation and getting no response from my audience.
I like preparing more than presenting		I like presenting more than preparing.
For me to feel confident, my presentation needs to take a logical path from A to B to C		For me, a successful presentation could follow any path.
I spend a lot of time making sure my presentations are thorough and accurate		Even when I have plenty of time to prepare, I often delay preparation until the last minute.
I feel confident that my presentations are well organized		I feel confident that I can engage my audience in the conversation.
When I'm delivering a presentation, I often get too wrapped up in the details of my slides and forget about my audience		When I'm delivering a presentation, I often lose track of or get ahead of my slides.
I feel that I am naturally organized		I feel that I am naturally disorganized.
Timing the presentation exactly is part of being well prepared		I tend to run out of time.
I find it difficult to speak off the cuff		Speaking off the cuff is easy for me.

Default Approach

WRITERS

Thrive with organization and preparation.

Often feel there isn't enough time to prepare. Want structure and predictability. Are naturally thorough, careful, detailed, and accurate.

But can be inflexible and strict during delivery.

IMPROVISERS

Thrive with connection to listeners.

Delay preparation until the last minute. Want to be spontaneous and engaged. Are responsive and unafraid to make last-minute changes.

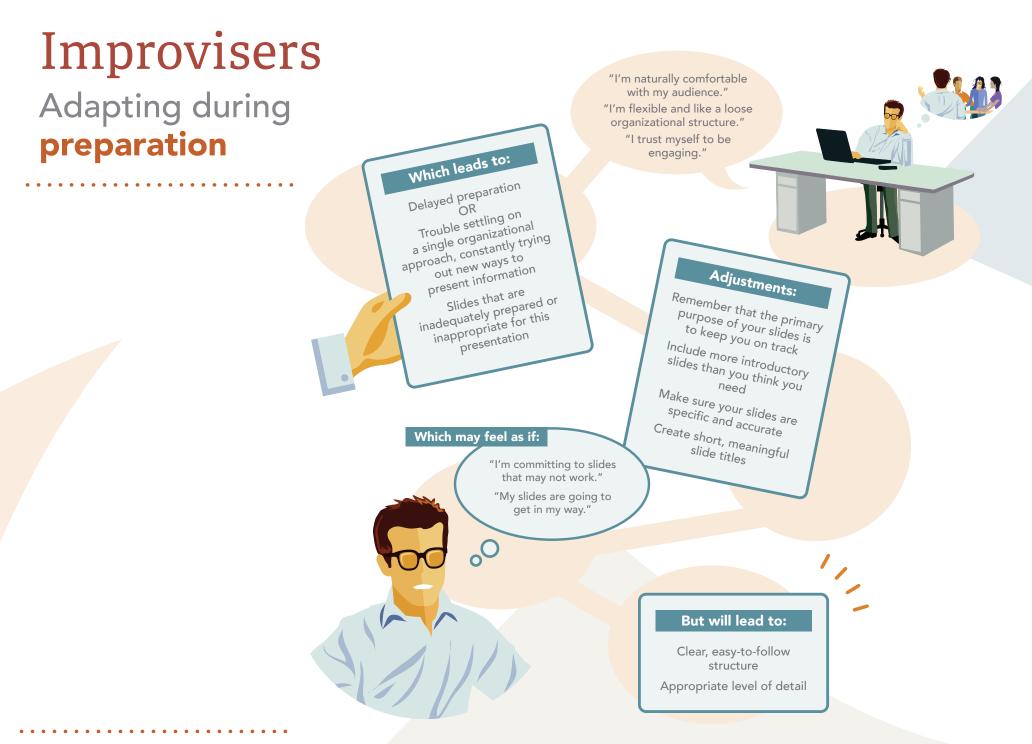

But can lose focus and confuse during delivery.

About Turpin Communication

Turpin Communication's Founder, Dale Ludwig, and EVP, Greg Owen-Boger, are the co-authors of The Orderly Conversation: Business Presentations Redefined, which challenges conventional thinking about what it means to present and facilitate in today's business environment and replaces it with something better. The book has been called "groundbreaking" and "eminently practical." Their second book, Effective SMEs: A Trainer's Guide for Helping Subject Matter Experts Facilitate Learning, was published in 2017 by ATD Press. Both books are available at amazon.com. They have also contributed to a number of books published through ATD Press. When the pandemic hit, they took the opportunity to write a companion piece to their first book. It is entitled The Virtual Orderly Conversation and may be downloaded at www.turpincommunication.com.

Dale and Greg both hold the Bates ExPI (Executive Presence Index) Coaching Certification. In their spare time, they run Turpin Cares, NFP, the philanthropic arm of Turpin Communication.

Dale Ludwig is the Founder and President of Turpin. Over the past 26 years, he and his partners have developed methodologies that challenge much of the conventional wisdom in the field. Working with presenters, facilitators, and trainers, Turpin's work (1) focuses on The Orderly Conversation[®] that must take place, (2) acknowledges the Default Approach that every presenter and facilitator brings to that process, and (3) helps communicators develop the skills they need to engage listeners in a productive interaction. Dale has a Ph.D. in Communication from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He is a frequent blogger and the author of the white paper "Getting Past 101," which can be downloaded at www.turpincommunication.com.

Greg Owen-Boger is the EVP of Learning and Business Development. Schooled in management and the performing arts, Greg brings a diverse set of skills and experiences to the organization. He joined Turpin in 1995 as a cameraman and quickly worked his way up. He now serves as a communication trainer and executive coach for Turpin's largest clients. He was the 2015 President of the Chicagoland Chapter of the Association for Talent Development. Like Dale, he is a frequent blogger and has made guest appearances on a variety of learning & development podcasts, radio shows, and webinars.
